ACADEMICS

Course List

There are more than 3,000 courses offered at each campus every semester. The degree programs at Dankook University are basically taught in Korean and some courses are offered to domestic full-time students only. Therefore, we make a list of English-taught courses every semester that can be offered to exchange students. And students are advised to pick courses from this list only, unless they possess a very high level of Korean proficiency.

Course Selection

- Students may choose any course from the lists and mix courses from different departments regardless of their major. There is no prerequisite to attend courses in any year level too. However, students need to be certain about their capability to take those courses and determine at their own discretion.

Apart from lectures, there are midterms and final exams which could vary in schedule and assessment type depending on courses.
- Exchange students from countries that use a different credit system need to consult about credit transfer or validation with their home university. As credit transfer system varies from university to university, it is important for students to find out how credit transfer works at their home university in advance.
